

Amelia (Amy) Sze,
200 S Grand Ave, Colburn School
90012

Education: The Colburn School, Master's Degree, to be completed in 2025. The Juilliard School, BM degree, completed in May 2023. Crossroads School for the Arts and Sciences, High School diploma, May 2019

Private Teachers: Martin Beaver, September 2023-present, Li Lin, September 2019 - May 2023, Aimée Kreston, 2013-2019

Masterclasses: Calidore String Quartet, November 2024, Sibbi Bernhardsson, July 2022, Robert Chen, April 2021, Midori, July 2018, Agata Szymczewska, July 2018, Anne Akiko Meyers, May 2017 Martin Chalifour, October 2019

Honors, Awards, Competitions: 2024 Isang Yun International Violin Competition Quarterfinalist, Classics Alive National Young Artists Audition Division Winner, Stradivarius International Violin Competition, Semifinalist, M-Prize Chamber Music Competition, Semifinalist

Performance Experience: Has collaborated in chamber music performances with Martin Beaver, Richard O'Neill, Philip Setzer, Lawrence Dutton, Sasha Cooke, Nicholas Kitchen and Antonio Lysy, among others. Solo performances include concerts with the Eastern Sierra Symphony and Edwin Outwater, the Santa Maria Philharmonic, Palisades Symphony, Antelope Valley Symphony, and San Luis Obispo Chamber Symphony.

Summer Programs: Morningside Music Bridge, Music Academy of the West, Heifetz Institute, Moritzburg Festival, National Art Centre's Young Artists Program

Other Activities, Community Service/ Projects: Current teacher at the jumpstart program at the Colburn School, volunteer violin teacher at Saint Anne School in Santa Monica for freshman, sophomore and junior years of high school

